WHOLE NUMBER 31

OCTOBER 1999

BNAPEX'99 - VERNON - SEPTEMBER 16 TO 18, 1999

The BNAPEX convention in Vernon is the third major stamp show to be held in Vernon in recent years. The Royal Philatelic Society met there in 1994 and PipeX was held in Vernon in 1998. The BNA show completes the round of major shows to come to British Columbia. Each of the preceding show has produced a series of daily show "cancellations" depicting various aspects of the Okanagan's history. The previous shows also produced commemorate postal envelopes depicting local personalities, namely George Melvin (1994) and Cornelius O'Keefe (1998). At time of going to press the details on the BNA show cancellations were not available.

In recent years the Canada Post Corporation has changed its policy and now encourages the production of "special" cancellations which in most cases are not intended to serve any postal function. These "hand back" or "cancel to order" (CTO) items are becoming more and more popular as in many cases they provide attractive souvenirs of some special event. Canada Post, in response to public demand, now produces other items such as "T" shirts, cover collections, and special books or booklets to satisfy the demand of the 300,000 collectors who maintain deposit accounts with the Philatelic Section. Unfortunately, many collectors have the impression that these special items will increase in value which is extremely unlikely because of the quantity produced. Special postal items should be collected for fun and not as an investment.

TRAIL 647209

The postal code for the main post office in Trail (RC 647209) is V1R 3W0 and, in 1994, a 48 x 38 mm rectangular dater was introduced showing the RC number 647209 at the top and the postal code V1R 3W0 at the bottom. At the same time a similar date stamp with the RC number 051152 appeared showing the same postal code at the bottom. Shortly afterwards the RC number was removed but the basic dater, without the RC number, remained in use until 1997. In 1997, a smaller, 40 x 31 mm, dater was introduced with 637823 at the top and the V1R 3W0 at the bottom. A check of all available postal records failed to show any listing for RC numbers "051152" or "637823" and thus the question as to why Trail had three RC number arose.

On a recent visit to Trail Post Office the problem of the three RC numbers was presented to the postmaster, who explained the use as follows. The RC number of the Trail Post Office is 647209 and is the official RC number. It is used on all daters at the main service desk. Some time in the early 1990's the Trail MPP was reorganized and assigned two additional number for use in the Operations Section and the Letter Carrier Section, and one or more daters were produced. It appears that the number 051152 saw brief usage and was removed so that the daters could be used in the operations section of the plant as well. The two sections have since been combined under the Operations section which is assigned RC number 637823. Collectors of modern postal history should watch for these numbers.

GEORGE H. MELVIN - 1905-1983
The Father of modern B.C. Postal History

To many British Columbia postal historians George Melvin is only the name of the author of two books on the Post Offices of British Columbia. His "Post Offices of British Columbia, 1858-1970", a 17 year labour of love, is still the definitive work and much sought after by those who want the full story of post offices in British Columbia.

George was born in Portsmouth, England, on March 25, 1905 and died in Vernon, B.C., on March 4, 1983. George came to Vernon as a member of the Army Medical Corp from Kiska, Alaska to help demobilize that group. He liked what he saw in the Okanagan and as a result he moved his family from Ontario to Vernon where he entered the paint business.

George had always been interested in stamps and assisting others and had worked actively in Ontario forming childrens stamp clubs sponsored by the Rotary Club. When he came to Vernon he became actively involved in many local activities with the result that he was named Vernon's Good Citizen of the Year in 1970. In 1978 he was made a Freeman of the City.

His contributions to the Vernon community were many. George served as an alderman in Vernon for 6 years. He also served as chairman of Vernon Winter Carnival Society, which under his chairmanship, became the largest winter carnival in Western Canada. At the same time he chaired the Red Cross Blood Donors Clinic, and the Vernon Museum Board. As a result of his leadership the Vernon Museum now houses one of the finest collections of artifacts and handiwork of the Okanagan's native peoples as well as many relics of Vernon's pioneer days.

George took an interest in all aspects of the Vernon community. He was an honorary life member of the Vernon Rotary Club, the OMPA, and the Royal Canadian Legion. He was a founding member the AOTS Men's Club at the United Church where he assisted greatly in the upkeep of the church.

His philatelic activities were many, serving both beginning collectors as well as senior philatelists. He was one of the founding members of the Okanagan Mainline Regional Stamp Group. He enjoyed presenting local showings of postal history as well as post card displays for Christmas, Valentine's Day, and on other special occasions. In 1972, the Northwest Federation of Stamp Clubs recognized George as the Distinguished Philatelist of the year in recognition of his outstanding contributions and service to philately.

For those who knew George he will be remembered as a gentleman and a friend. For those who never met him, the British North America Convention in Vernon seem a suitable time to review his past contributions.

VERNON - A POSTAL STUDY

The first Post Office to serve the Okanagan Valley was the OKANAGON Post Office (1) which was probably established, in 1872 (2), on the O'Keefe Ranch some five miles to the north of the present city of Vernon. Mail for this post office was brought from DUCK & PRINGLE'S, on the South Thompson River, via the Monte Trail which followed the route of present Highway 97.

The first post office to actually serve the present Vernon area was the PRIEST'S VALLEY Post Office which was established 1st November, 1884 with Luc Girouard as postmaster. (3). In 1862, Father Paul Durieu, O.M.I., built a small cabin as an out-station of the Okanagan Mission, located near present day Kelowna, and as a result the name Priest's Valley was given to the region. Only one postal markings from PRIEST'S VALLEY has been reported to date.

The name Priest's Valley was not popular and, in 1887, the names Centreville and Forge Valley were suggested, but the name of the Vernon was finally selected and the name of the PRIEST'S VALLEY Post Office was officially changed to VERNON, 1st November, 1887 with Luc Girouard remaining as postmaster. Vernon was named in honour of Forbes George Vernon who arrived at the Coldstream Ranch in 1863 along with his brother Charles. In 1869 the Vernon brothers purchased the Coldstream Ranch from Colonel C.F. Houghton. Forbes Vernon entered into politics and became Chief Commissioner for Lands and Works for British Columbia and as a result was highly regarded in the community. (5)

Thanks to a number of land developments schemes the town of Vernon expanded rapidly and although a number of other post offices were established in the area, Vernon soon became the major office for the North Okanagan Region.

Postmaster about 1970

By 1930 the volume of mail passing through the Vernon Post Office had increased to the point that mechanized cancelling equipment was required and a Columbia Rapid Cancelling Machine (RCM) was supplied to the Vernon Post Office to speed up the processing of mail. An I.P.S. Rapid Cancelling Machine is still in use in Vernon although it is only used on local mail as all other mail is sent to Vancouver for processing.

PASSED BY INTERNMENT CENSOR VERNON, B.C.

The Vernon Internment Camp was opened shortly after the start of World War I to house foreign nationals that were considered a security risk. Allan Steinhart in his book "Civil Censorship in Canada during World War I" discusses civil censorship but makes little reference to the censorship of prisoner of war mail. He also point out that almost no information is available in official records.

The letter reproduced, in part, below provides information on the changes in regulations regarding POW mail and confirms the fact that all POW mail was censored in Ottawa and not, as had been suggested by some authors, at the nearest censorship branch, in the case of Vernon at Vancouver.

Dr. Otto Grunert      Vernon BC, Canada, Detention Camp, February 4th 18.

My dear little Dorothy:-

It was indeed a happy day for me, when I received your long dear letter of Jan. 6th, which arrived end of last month here in the camp. There are new regulations in regard to our mail, which first goes to Ottawa for being censored there independently from the censorship here in camp, and that delays the mail considerably. Furthermore we are not permitted to write more than 2 pages in each letter and on each page only 25 lines. However this restriction I will replace by writing you more often.

TOAD RIVER - VOC 2X0

Toad River was established as TOAD RIVER - RPO 1 (RC 653497), on May 26, 1987, at mile 422 on the Alaska Highway. The RPO 1 was a rather unusual designation as there is no indication that it was an actual RPO. On July 30, 1992 it became a regular Franchise "B" Rural post office with RC number 082511. On May 16, 1995 the office changed hands and a new RC number, 173096, was issued. The new dater showed the postal code as VOX 2X0 rather than the correct postal code VOC 2X0. The error was not corrected until early 1999 when a new dater was issued with correct postal code.

Kevin O'Reilly has provided an interesting cover showing both postal codes as well as the Alaska-Canada highway marking of 1992. The latter marking was supposed to be withdrawn on December 31, 1992 but appears to have remained in use until December 31, 1997. Has anyone another example of use of the Alaska-Canada marking used between December 1992 and December 1997?

TOAD RIVER, B.C. VOC 2X0

Re- POSTAL, POSTALE, POSTLE

Bob Spencer has provided an answer to the question how do you spell "POSTAL" in French, but in the mean time the Vancouver MPP appears to have reverted to "POSTAL" for both spellings. At the same time OCR 081 now reads OCR 082. The change may be the result of a major re-organization of the Vancouver MPP as the result of the transfer of the Parcel Depot to a new facility in Richmond.

After checking all the French dictionaries that were handy, I wasn't much further ahead, since both were listed. However reading the finer print revealed that "POSTALE" is the feminine form and, - since they class "CODE" as masculing - "POSTAL" should be the grammatically correct form.

Since CANADA POST appears to accept either form maybe they are just trying to be "NEUTRAL" (politically correct)?

RESPONSE FORM for GULF ISLANDS POSTMARK SURVEY (Part I)

Please check your collection for early and late dates for the following Gulf Islands steel datestamps. Rubber datestamps and registration boxes will be surveyed in future issues. Photocopies of any unlisted metal hammers would be appreciated. Hammer types are those used in Topping's B.C. Post Offices, ie. A (split circle), B (closed circle, large letters), C (closed circle, small letters), D (duplex), G (30-mm+), M (machine). Rarity factors (RF) are B (common), C (in most collections), D (scarce), E (rare, less than 10 strikes noted), U (unreported). Please note any new ink colors or other pertinent uses. For scarce (RF D) and rare (RF E) offices, please note number and date of examples you hold, so an inventory can be compiled and precise rarity factors established. Thank you.
