CMMSG Newsletter Index – Issues 101 to 150

Introduction

This index consists of 3 parts:

- Part 1 – Subject Headings
- Part 2 – Subject Index
- Part 3 – Chronological Listing of Newsletter Contents

Part 1 is set out historically, that is, following history's timeline. An exception is the listing for generic articles not tied to a specific point in time (e.g. CMMSG matters). This is a full listing of the subjects covered in the CMMSG Newsletter that have been indexed.

Explanation: World War One (1914-1919)

- British FPOs used by Canada
- Canadian Bases in England
- Canadian Forces Abroad in WW I
- Censor Markings
- COEF - Canadian Overseas Expeditionary Force WW I

The bold indicates a major subject heading, the indented lines are minor subject headings. To save space, the minor headings for generic listings have not been included here. The same headings are used in the main index in Part 2.

Part 2 is the main index. It lists the same subjects alphabetically, giving the issue number and page number for each article indexed. This list also contains cross-references.

Example: AFAL, see Military Postal Stationery
Allied Forces in Canada
Free Czech Forces: n. 135: p. 346
Alaska Highway
Alaska Highway: n. 103: p. 26

The main headings are again shown in bold, the secondary ones indented and regular. The font used for these is Arial 10 points. The minor headings (the actual indexed subjects) are shown in Times Roman 10 pt font, regular, followed by the issue number and page number.

Part 3 is a listing of all newsletter issues (101 to 150) in chronological order, showing the indexed articles by page number.

Example: #101 (91-10)
Hubba, Hubba: 1
Siberian Geishas: 3

The first number is the issue, followed by the date of issue in YY-MM format (i.e. 91-10 is October 1991). The indented lines that follow list the indexed articles contained in that issue of the CMMSG newsletter.

In compiling this index, I have tried to retain the broad approach of the Newsletter Index prepared by Ritch Toop in 1991, as well as follow the excellent example set by the BNA Topics Cumulative Index by Charles Livermore. The suggestions from Dean Mario and others, who reviewed the draft version, were very much appreciated.

This index, however, is not complete. Ideally, it ought to be combined with Ritch Toops' work of 1991. This, then, should be regarded as an interim effort towards a full cumulative index to be published in the (near) future. Meanwhile, comments and suggestions will be welcomed.
