So far, I have not heard anything from Maresch's sale of the Richardson collection, I understand there were some phenomenal prices realized. But until I hear definitely I can give no report.

Northwest Territory Game License Stamps - 1979-80

by Clay Rubec

The Northwest Territories issued game license stamps to show the payment of hunting fees in 1979-80.

These licenses expired June 30, 1980 and many may now become available to collectors. Stamps were issued in sheets of 20 (4 x 5) with eight marginal inscriptions (4 at top and 4 at bottom) reading " Please be sure the duplicate copy is legible" The stamps are perforated 12½ x 12½. Stamps of basically similar design were printed for the following licenses:

Small Game	Mountain Goat	Barron Ground Caribou
Black Bear	Dall's Sheep	Woodland Caribou
Grizzly Bear	Moose	Wolf
Polar Bear	Muskox	Wolverine

Designs have included green printing with red control numbers (from 2000-3000 for Wolf for instance). Boxes are left for the date and license number. Wolf license and others also require issuance of pelt tags.

Stamps are sold to residents and non-residents for a different schedule of fees. A small game license is $5, Wolf $10, these being the common licenses. A Polar Bear license is extremely rare. I am told only 6 to 8 were sold in 1979-80.

New 1980-81 stamps are now prepared; hence, provisional licenses with stamp date changed from 1979-80 to 1980-81 may be found currently.

These stamps should be placed in the category along with
