When was the last time someone you didn't know stood by you? You received help "just because"? That generosity happens every single day for students at Western. And it happened when you were here too.

Nearly every part of your Western experience was touched by alumni giving – from library resources to athletic programs, study spaces to bursaries. Alumni

It's pretty hard to tell by looking at this couple that a senior's ...
 #1 worry is outliving their retirement income, and ...
 #2 worry is how to leave more to their family.

That's because this couple is living the retirement that they always dreamed of ... the retirement that they planned for! You see they didn't agree that it was okay to follow the path of the typical Canadian.

If you would ask them about their secret, they would tell you, "It's simple... take control now!" Do what they did... take 90 minutes and learn how to reduce the

Promote your organization with custom indicia

Canada Post has given marketers more real estate for promoting their organization. The upper-right corner of an envelope, self-mailer or postcard can now be used for marketing purposes. Indicia for lettermail and addressed mail can be customized to display an organization's logo, products or services, or marketing messages. Templates for custom indicia are available from Canada Post's website. Each custom template is composed of reserved elements, the customer number, and the customer visual area. The reserved elements are:

- the perforated border
- Canada Post's logo
- the service name

The customer number is to be inserted in a sans serif font such as Arial or Myriad; the number should be between 2 and 5 mm tall. The visual area is set aside for various kinds of elements:

- customer logo
- text
- graphic or image

Customers need Canada Post's approval of their proposed artwork before applying it to any mailings. Once approval is obtained, the indicia may be used any number of times. Approval is obtained by emailing a copy of the completed artwork to the following address: customizedindicia@canadapost.ca. Most organizations will have little difficulty in arranging approval, since the general guideline is that images and text must be suitable for family audiences. Canada Post does, however, reserve the right to refuse any proposed artwork at its sole discretion. For assistance in creating the customized indicia, obtaining approval, or using the artwork in a mailing, contact your Lowe-Martin representative or email me at: joe.post@LMGroup.com.
