Canada Post / CUPW Strike 2018?

As of this writing (Oct 3), there is a possibility of a postal strike or lockout as early as next week. Canada Post and the Canadian Union of Postal Workers representing 50,000 of the Crown agency’s employees are meeting to avert a strike.

The union issued wide-ranging contract proposals to the Crown corporation nearly two weeks ago. The two sides have been bargaining separate contracts for the carrier’s urban and rural employees for nine months, with no success.

CUPW members voted in late August and early September to back a strike. An original early Wednesday deadline for job action passed with the union saying it would not issue a mandatory 72-hour strike notice if there was progress at the bargaining table.

The union has warned its members to be prepared for job action, which could initially include rotating walkouts. The main sticking points in the talks have been wages and working conditions.

$2.50 Definitives

The From Far and Wide definitive stamps were released January 15, 2018.

Some nine months later, the previous $2.50 Baby Wildlife coils are still being sold at various Canada Post outlets, “while supplies last.”

With postal rates expected to rise in just 3 months (Jan 2019), there may be minimal sales and usage of the $2.50 coil stamps during its lifespan.

John S. Siverts Award

The John S. Siverts Award is given annually to the best BNAPS Study Group newsletter published during the previous year. This year’s award, announced at BNAPEX 2018 held in Quebec City from September 21 to 23, is our own Corgi Times newsletter.

This is the seventh time that the Corgi Times has won this award since its inception in 1989. Our first editor, John Arn, won it in 1994, 1995 and 2000. Your current editor, Robin Harris, first won this award way back in 2002, again in 2006 and 2007, and now this one. Illustrated to the right is the award that was presented (with misspelling of name!).

Plan ahead for ORAPEX 2019 – Ottawa, ON

“Elizabethan Era Philately” is the theme of ORAPEX 2019! ESG members are encouraged to prepare exhibits for this national-level show recognized by the Royal Philatelic Society of Canada. Let’s promote our area of interest and research! The show will be held on Saturday and Sunday, May 4–5, 2019, at the RA Centre, 2451 Riverside Drive, Ottawa. The announcement and link to the ORAPEX website can be found at <https://www.ottawaphilatelicssociety.org/shows/orapex-2019/>

Your Editor (Robin) will be attending ORAPEX 2019 and giving at least one presentation (hopefully two); stay tuned for more details as they become available!

Any more 2018 Stamps Forthcoming?

by: Robin Harris

Here we are in the first week of October and, according to what has been heard to date from Canada Post, there are only two stamp issues remaining: the new $4 Bighorn Sheep definitive next week and the annual Christmas stamps (date not yet announced).

Will there be a stamp issued for the 100th anniversary of the Armistice? I certainly hope we will see an announcement on such a stamp shortly. This is one of the world’s most important historical events. A stamp was issued in 1968 for the 50th anniversary (illustrated at right).

What about an annual “blockbuster” stamp issue? Over the past few years we have had Star Trek and NHL stamps; nothing has (yet) been announced for this year. With that said, the Canadian Mint’s October coin release announcement includes six $25 face-value (selling price of $149.95) coins (pictured below) and reads as follows:

Just in time for the start of a new NHL season, the Mint is offering hockey fans a great new memorabilia collection with a six-coin fine silver coin series celebrating famous Canadian captains of the Original Six™ teams. Framed on a vertically oriented rectangular coin and rendered in vivid colour photography are the following homegrown hockey stars: Yvan Cournoyer (Montreal Canadiens); Denis Savard (Chicago Blackhawks); Steve Yzerman (Detroit Red Wings); Ray Bourque (Boston Bruins); Mark Messier (New York Rangers) and Doug Gilmour (Toronto Maple Leafs).

Will Canada Post be having a ‘joint’ stamp release to go along with the coins? I certainly hope not.

Robin Harris receives 2018 John Siverts Award!

At the BNAPEX awards banquet on September 23, it was announced that the recipient of the 2018 John Siverts Award for the best study group newsletter in 2017 is Robin Harris, the editor of Corgi Times. Congratulations Robin – we greatly appreciate your outstanding production of our newsletter! Robin also received this award for 2003, 2006, and 2007.

Elizabethan II Exhibits at BNAPEX 2018 - Québec City, QC

The Elizabethan II era was well-represented among the exhibits at BNAPEX 2018. The following exhibits dealt entirely with Elizabethan II material (alphabetically by exhibitor surname):

"The Cameo Design on Postal Stationery of Canada" (7 frames) by Earle Covert [Gold Medal]
"The Canadian 6¢ Wilding Definitive" (1 frame) by Robert Elias [Gold Medal; John D. Arn White Queen Award]
"The 1988–2002 Masterpieces of Canadian Art Stamps" (7 frames) by John Hall [Vermeil Medal]
"1977–79 'Peace Tower' Domestic Rates Stamps" (1 frame) by John McIntyre [Silver Medal]
"Canada: 1985 – 50¢ Parliament Booklet Low Value Usages" by Ingo Nessel [Silver Medal]

Elizabethan II Study Group Annual “Show-and-Tell” at BNAPEX 2018 – Québec City, QC

The Elizabethan II Study Group held its Annual “Show-and-Tell” on September 22, during BNAPEX 2018 in Québec City. Eighteen participants were welcomed by Bob Elias.

Bob noted that the Elizabethan II era was well-represented among this year’s exhibits, with five entries dealing entirely with Elizabethan II topics and several others including some material from this era. Let’s continue to promote our interests and research through exhibiting! Regarding study group matters, Bob pointed out that we are financially sound. Robin Harris continues his outstanding production of Corgi Times, but the urgent need for articles is ongoing. Please support our newsletter by sending submissions to Robin. Bob thanked the authors who have contributed to recent issues. Members were reminded that we offer BNAPS publications on Elizabethan II topics at reduced cost. For a complete list of offerings and the ordering procedure, see pages 58–59 in the January–February 2018 issue of Corgi Times.

John Hall started off our “Show-and-Tell” with manifest sheets for bulk mailings in 1997. They were covered with full panes of stamps including the $5 Architecture definitive, cancelled in Nova Scotia. John also passed around a new book by Hugh Rathburn on “Nova Scotia Pictorial Postmarks”.

Rob McGuinness showed us a registered Bank of Nova Scotia cover with the uncommon “Moncton N.B. R.B.” barrel cancellation.

Leopold Beaudet began with the 1975 $1 Olympic Sculptures stamp featuring “The Sprinter”, sold on ebay as misperforated. The issue was printed by Ashton-Potter, which normally used a T-comb perforator, but has H-comb perforations as produced by Canadian Bank Note Company. Next, Leopold demonstrated that the “red thread” variety of the 1982 35¢ RCMP Constable stamp is a transient variety, rather than a constant plate variety. Leopold also showed examples of three corner fold-overs on the 17¢ Parliament stamp, revealing information usually trimmed off the panes.

André Dumont discussed #2253 and #2253B, which are the incorrect and corrected versions of the booklet stamp featuring Pachena Point Lighthouse in BC. André pointed out a tag shift. He also encouraged us to take a look at the philabec.com website (Philabec: La Philatélie au Québec). Issues of “La revue Philabec” can be downloaded — what a lovely periodical!

Jeffrey Arndt made a nice find in a $2 box at the bourse! It’s a commercial cover with a 6¢ Wilding paying the double-weight local letter rate and a 20¢ Pulp and Paper paying the registration fee.

Bernie Finkelstein, who recently joined the ESG, passed around an example of the 3¢ Wilding that’s imperforate vertically.

Dave Bartlet showed us two recently flown commemorative covers celebrating significant events in Canadian airmail history. The first was flown on June 24, 2018, marking the 100th anniversary of the first airmail flight in Canada by Brian Peck from Montreal to Toronto. The second was flown on July 9, 2018, the 100th anniversary of the first airmail delivery from Calgary to Edmonton by Katherine Stinson.

George Dresser pointed out a recent article in Linn’s Stamp News Monthly about the upcoming $4 Mountain Sheep, which is an engraved stamp. George is interested in the low-and medium-value animals definitives, and would welcome trades.

Adri Veenstra, as always, had good luck at the bourse! He obtained a package containing audio tape, which was sent to England for 60¢ and franked with high-value Centennial definitives.

Luc Frève showed us examples of miscut stamps, including one from the Jasper National Park booklet.

And finally, as the hour came to an end, Bob Elias passed around the wrapper of a registered package sent at the domestic forward letter rate during the Wilding period. The contents were evidently fragile, as the wrapper was marked “REGISTERED AGAINST LOSS ONLY / RECOMMANDE CONTRE LA PERTE SEULEMENT”.

Next year, our Annual “Show-and-Tell” will be held during BNAPEX 2019, August 30 to September 1 at the Delta Marriott Hotel in Ottawa, Ontario. Be sure to bring a treasure to show us or a puzzle to ask about!

8¢ Figure Skating Constant Variety

Jonathan at Weeda Stamps (Victoria, BC / www.weeda.com) passed along the following:

I have found what appears to be a constant variety on Scott #559, the 1972 Figure Skating issue. On every upper left block and sheet that I have examined for the past month there is a small dot to the left of the leg on the small white figure, from position 12.

Editor: I found 8 used copies in our 'hoard' of 314 copies, and an example on an upper left, field stock block of 4. Although the dot is small, it can be seen with the naked eye.

The Franklin Expedition

The Franklin Expedition stamp issue of 2015 (Aug 6) included a framed print of 16 stamps with a special overprinted cancellation on the lower left block of 4 (illustrated below is the advertisement from the Canada Post August 2015 | No. 7 Details magazine).

The framed print was sold at a premium price of $59.95, which is the only source of this overprinted cancellation ... or so we thought!

A collector has passed along an e-mail (with image) of a mint pane of 16 sealed in the special wrapping¹, which was purchased at face value (i.e. no premium). This is obviously a packaging mistake on the part of the printer.

Franklin Expedition (Scott 2854–2855)

2018 Weather Wonders: Hidden Text

Hidden micro printing text noting type of weather wonder

1985 Parliament Booklet Usages (Part 4)

by: Ingo Nessel, FRPSL

This series of articles answers the question, "How did Canada Post customers use those 50¢ booklet stamps (see figure 9), especially the low values?" With the 16¢ worth of stamps that remained after the 34¢ 1st class letter rate stamp was removed, mailers used ingenuity to get every penny of their money's worth.

After having covered the aspects of domestic lettermail usage, international mail and special services we now come to the subject of under- and over-payment before we conclude.

Post office clerks were sometimes challenged to add up the many 2¢ and 5¢ stamps covering a letter to add up to 34¢. Mailers got away with small underpayments as in figure 1 which is 32¢, underpaid by 2¢ and not caught.

Figure 1

On other occasions, the short payment was more egregious but still not caught as in the following examples.

Figure 2 – 7¢ made up of a se-tenant pair of the 2¢ and 5¢ stamps. Underpaid by 27¢ and not caught.

Figure 3 – 2¢ franking underpaid by 32¢ and incredibly, roller cancelled but not caught by Canada Post.

While a quantity of underpaid covers escaped post office notice, others were caught by vigilant postal clerks for even the slightest underpayment.

The opposite of underpayment also occurred with mailers overpaying either for convenience or by sloppy arithmetic.

Figure 5 – 35¢ postage, overpaying 34¢ rate by 1¢ for convenience, as the 3 x 5¢ and 10 x 2¢ booklet stamp combination cannot be made to equal 34c. As a side note, this was my first cover with these stamps, emanating from the mail of my then employer.

Figure 6 – 36¢ rate mailed in the 34¢ period so overpaid by 2¢. Apparently the sender either did not know the correct rate or could not count properly to make up 34¢.

To conclude this article, 2 mixed franking covers are shown. After the 34c era ended in 1987, 36¢ (1987), 37¢ (1988) and finally 38¢ (1989) Parliament booklets were issued with similar designs, but in new colours and varying mixture of denominations to add up to 50¢ for those vending machines. Canada Post customers saved the left-over low value stamps from several booklets and used them in mixtures to make up later period rates.

Figure 7 – 40c franking on a 1991 letter. Made up of 2 x 5¢ and 3 x 2¢ values from the 1985- and 4 x 6¢ from the 1988 Parliament booklets of the 37¢ era.

Figure 8 – 39¢ franking on an undated letter, with mixed franking of a single 1985 5¢ stamp and 3 x 6¢ & 8 x 2¢ stamps from the 1989 Parliament booklet of the 38¢ era.

In conclusion, this bit of Elizabethan II postal history has been a joy to collect because of the sheer beauty of the engraved stamps as well as the challenge of finding these covers. Despite their low catalogue value, or maybe because of it, they are extremely difficult to find. The one-frame exhibit that this series of articles is based on has had a mixed reception by philatelic jurors. Initially I was thrilled to receive a vermeil medal and even the coveted John D. Arn White Queen award at an Edmonton Spring Show. But at subsequent showings the medal level hovered between silver and large silver. No matter, I fully understand that a more comprehensive treatment showing all the booklets' postal history, more exotic covers, and perhaps showing some of the known printing flaws and tagging errors could result in a better medal level. But it has been an honour to raise the profile of this subject both at exhibitions and in these pages. It has resulted in dealers and friends looking out for the material and plying me with more.

Finally, a note on behalf of our dear editor. Many of your readers are now exhibiting various aspects of Elizabethan II stamps and postal history. I saw fabulous exhibits of our favourite reign at ORAPEX, the Postal History Society of Canada Symposium, Royal*2018*Royale, BNAPEX and others. Why not write up your exhibit as a series of articles to share your knowledge with the broader audience of Corgi Times?
