Corgi Times Volume 30

With this issue of Corgi Times, we start our 30th year of publication.

Volume 1, Number 1 (pictured at right) was published in July 1992 by our group's founder, John D. Arn. Sadly, John passed away in 2012.

Over the years, we have published some 3,000 pages of Elizabethan-era material in our bi-monthly newsletters.

Our journal has won the John S. Siverts award for the best BNAPS study group newsletter on seven occasions: 1994, 1995, 2000, 2002, 2006, 2007 and 2018.

THE ELIZABETHAN II STUDY GROUP NEWSLETTER

WELCOME TO THE NEWEST STUDY GROUP WITHIN THE BRITISH NORTH AMERICA PHILATELIC SOCIETY. This is a day that I have looked forward to with anticipation for several years. The Elizabethan era, which I considered to have started in 1553, includes about 75% of all postage stamps issued by Canada. There are many philatelic subjects which fall into this category but are very unique to the era such as tagging or ongoing such as postal stationery. Many BNA collectors have worked on their favorite subjects in isolation due to there being insufficient numbers in a specific subject to support establishment of their own study group. Now you all have a common forum through which philatelic knowledge can grow.

For those of you who are not familiar with BNAPS study groups the primary medium of communications is the study group newsletter. Through the newsletter you can publish articles on your subject of interest. This may be a complete analysis of a particular subject or simply your results of tracing a single philatelic item through its system. You are free to ask questions with the idea that one of your fellow study group members may know the answer and can provide it to you, and the other members quickly. The object of the study group is to support philatelic research and to circulate the information to other philatelists in a timely, inexpensive manner. Depending on the number of articles or interesting items sent to the editor, the newsletter may be issued between three and eleven times a year; the average study group has five. The newsletter is not a newspaper. Without contributions from many of you, small as they may seem at the time, the newsletter will be small and infrequent. So provide the editor with photocopies of interesting covers with the story where known or a question if not. The study group will only be successful if it can provide you with information. With the variety of subjects that may be found in the Elizabethan era not everything will be about things that interest you but read them carefully as there may be connections to your subject that are not obvious at first glance.

If you have any questions or comments or if I may help the study group in any way please feel free to write me: John C. Johnson, BNAPS Study Group Coordinator, 717 25th Avenue NW, Calgary, AB T2M 2B4.

During BNAPEX '91 in Vancouver Jon Johnson asked me if I would consider forming a new study group. I thought he was talking about the Carleton Place and Landscapes but, no way, he was talking about, as you have noted above, the whole nine yards - a group to study everything Canada has issued from Scott 325 to date. For a variety of reasons it was not until March this year.

Corgi Times Recognized on Jeopardy!

The July 26, 2021 episode of the iconic game show Jeopardy! contained an answer depicting the image of a Canadian stamp. Canada Post had asked me back in April for a high resolution scan of the 17¢ stamp issued April 6, 1981 (Scott 883).

Illustrated at right is the image that appeared on the show, along with the original stamp. Notice the alteration of the image in the upper right corner, with the removal of the latin name of the animal.

The $1000 answer in the category of 'Where the Wild Things Are', was: 'General term for a ground squirrel such as a woodchuck. The Vancouver Island one is found only in Canada'.

Two of the contestants answered incorrectly ('gopher' and 'beaver') before the third player got it correct: 'What is marmot'.

The credits at the end of the show, guest hosted by LeVar Burton (Roots, Star Trek: The Next Generation, Reading Rainbow), included the following for the stamp scan:

Canada Post News

► 2021/2 Quarterly Pack

The second quarterly pack of 2021 appeared in the middle of July. It is advertised as having the stamps issued from April through June and is priced at $12.88

There are six stamp issues included:

- Juno Awards, 50th Anniversary
- Insulin
- Eid
- Canadian Ballet Legends
- John Turner
- Bluenose 100th Anniversary

► Details Magazine

The Details magazine produced by Canada Post continues to come out sporadically. That is, the details for certain stamp issues still do not appear until the release date of the stamp(s) ... or even later!

The Canada Post website page for the on-line version of Details has had some design changes made to it. For several weeks, the on-line Details was not even available for download (it is now, but can be tricky to find and cumbersome to download).

Thin Journal

Another thin journal. Despite our past requests, we did not receive any new articles to include with this issue.

As we have requested before, articles are urgently needed. My apologies to anyone if I have misplaced an article that someone has submitted.

ESG and CAPEX 2022

by: Robert J. Elias, Chairman of Elizabethan II Study Group and Robin Harris, Editor of Corgi Times

CAPEX 22, the first international stamp exhibition to be held in Canada since 1996, is now less than one year away.

We would like to make a special (May-Jun '22) issue of Corgi Times available on the CAPEX 2022 website during the convention (June 9-12, 2022). CAPEX 2022 will attract a diverse, international audience, so an issue that's broad-ranging and covers as much ground as possible may be most appealing and effective.

We are asking each and everyone of our membership to submit one item on the theme of "My Favourite Canadian Elizabethan II Stamp/Item". If someone submits a stamp/item that someone else has already submitted, they will be asked to come up with another entry instead ... so ... submit now! This should take less than an hour of one's time. Let's promote the ESG to the world!
