

Similar CPR perfins.

by Jon Johnson

With this edition of the BNA Perforator are the Canadian Pacific Railway questionnaires so it most likely is time again to review the similar CPR perfins. And for some of you, with Christmas upon us, you may even have time to sort all of those perfins we all love so much.

The C26 perfin came into use at the end of the Edward era and was distributed from Montreal. For some reason the machine appears to have become damaged relatively quickly with poor perforations in the Admirals. By the time of the Arch issues it is very unusual to locate a stamp without missing and blind holes. For that matter identification can be difficult if you are not used to looking at blind holes. The last issue found with this perforation in several major collections is the Medallion issue.

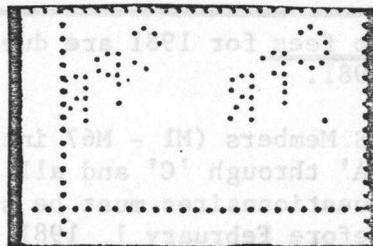

The C26b perfin is first found in the 10¢ Cartier and the Medallion issue. In these first issues the perforations are clean and a distinct contrast to the C26 of this period. There is a difference between the C26 and C26b perfins, the last hole in the end of the 'R'. In C26 the last three holes in the 'R' are in a straight line and evenly spaced, neither is true in C26b, the last hole is shifted downward. It is thought that C26b is a reconstructed die placed in the C26 machine. Whether this is true or not, the dies are distinctly different and should be separated. The C26b perforator was retired in 1970.

damaged C26a

Now, the observant sorter is going to notice that some C26 perforations appear to exist after the Medallion issue, which was just mentioned. The observation is correct but the perfin is not C26, need a better contradictory comment. C26a which is the Winnipeg perfin is virtually identical to C26 with the addition of a code hole. C26a broke one code pin during the Admiral era and by the time it was retired in 1964 at least two were broken. Some collectors separate these damaged C26a dies to avoid confusion. Up to the Medallion issue only town cancels can identify the damaged die, after that, if it looks like C26 it is the damaged C26a. Not too hard, you just have to keep this in mind while you are sorting your CPR perfins.

Correction.

In the October 1980 'BNA Perforator', the F.E. Eaton & Sons perfin was given the number F6. This should read F5 and not F6.

Roster Additions.
